

universität wien

Department of Philosophy

peter singer on parfit and consequentialism

Monday, 25 June 2018, 18:30

Main Building of the University of Vienna, Lecture Hall 16, Mezzanine floor, Staircase 5 Universitätsring 1, 1010 Vienna

Peter Singer,
one of the most influential thinkers of our days, discusses Consequentialism as portrayed in Derek Parfit's book "On What Really Matters." In this book, Parfit describes a Triple theory which combines elements of Consequentialism with Kantianism and Contractarianism.

Participation is free.

Prepare yourselves for a lively discussion following the lecture by reading an excerpt of the manuscript -- available upon request: linnea.kralik@univie.ac.at

Organized by: Erwin Lengauer Angela Kallhoff

philosophie.univie.ac.at