

METHODS IN PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE – 22.-23. May – PRELIMINARY PROGRAMME

DAY 1 – 22.5

9:00-9:15 Adrian Currie & Sophie Veigl – Kickoff

9:15-10:15 Hasok Chang – Meta-pragmatism as a philosophical methodology?

10:15-10:30 Coffee Break

10:30-11:30 Alexander Linsbichler – How do we (re-)construct the content of a text? A joint reflection

11:30-12:30 Sophie Veigl – In search of epistemic systems through qualitative interviews

12:30-14:00 Lunch Break

14:00-15:00 Adrian Currie – “Not to generalize across cases but to generalize within them”: a Geertzian account of case studies in the philosophy of science

15:00-16:00 Martin Kusch - Integrated philosophy and sociology of science: SSK for example

19:00 Conference Dinner at Stuwer, Stuwertstraße 47, 1020 Wien

DAY 2 – 23.5.

09:00-10:00 Tamar Schneider – Thinking with feminist philosophy of science: epistemologies of power relations, relationships, and non-binaries

10:00-11:00 Charles Pence – What could conceptual cartography be and how can digital analyses help us do it?

12:00-14:00 How to philosophize about the sciences – Public Philosophy Activity and closing lunch at Café Rüdigerhof, Hamburgerstraße 20, 1050 Wien